AUTUMN BREAK HOLIDAY HOMEWORK

SESSION -2024-25

CLASS: V

SUBJECT: MATHEMATICS

1. Imagine you are either visiting a new place or staying at home. Based on your situation, create a map in the form of a chart:

- If you are visiting a new place: Draw a map of the area, marking important landmarks, roads, and places you visit. Be sure to include directions (North, South, East and West) to show where everything is located.
- If you are staying at home: Draw a map of your surroundings, starting from your home. Include nearby streets, parks, shops, or other places you can think of. Again, use directions (North, South, East & West) to show the orientation of your map.

2. Create a Math Puzzle Book:

- Make your own math puzzle book with 5 different types of puzzles.
- You can create word problems, number patterns, Sudoku-like puzzles, or even a maze where students can only move to the next step if they solve the problem correctly.
- Make sure to include the answers on a separate page!

SESSION -2024-25

CLASS : V

SUBJECT : EVS

Do question number 1 to 2 in A4 size sheets.

1. Make a poster with a message on saving fuel. Write a slogan too.
Where would you like to put up this poster.
2. Imagine that a company has given you a chance to design a new vehicle like a mini bus. What kind of vehicle would you design?
Write about it. Draw a picture and colour it.
*While making the design, who did you plan to take care of.,
old people _____
children _____
those who cannot see? _____

3. Debate Topic:

"Traditional Mountain Shelters are Better Suited for High-Altitude Living than Modern Concrete Buildings."

Prepare your speech either for the motion or against the motion (lesson 'A SHELTER SO HIGH') *debate will be conducted after autumn break.

For the Motion (Traditional Shelters are Better):

- Adaptation to the Environment: Traditional mountain homes are specifically designed with sloping roofs, thick walls, and materials like wood and stone, which provide better insulation and protection from the cold, heavy snowfall, and landslides.

Against the Motion (Modern Concrete Buildings are Better):

- Durability and Strength: Modern concrete buildings are more durable and resistant to natural disasters like earthquakes, which are common in mountainous regions.

On the basis of these points (for and against the motion) you can add more points and examples on your own.
